Appointments by the Governor.
R. T. Durrett, Esq., of Louisville, and Geo. B. Burnley, Esq., of Frankfort, to be Aides to the Governor, with the rank of Colonel.

From the arrival of the mails at Danville, on Tuesday evening, bringing the votes of Green, Taylor, and Adair counties, in which Chrisman had obtained large majorities, up to Saturday evening succeeding, it was regarded as doubtful which was elected. Each successive mail alternately cheered the one side and depressed the other. At that time it was believed there was not more than one or two votes difference, and the chances for Chrisman. On Friday evening the Clerk of the County Court delivered the poll books to W. C. Anderson, Esq., who took them to his private residence, kept them over night, and returned them to the office on the morning of Saturday. Again on Saturday evening they were taken from the custody of the clerk by Mr. Anderson, carried to his private residence, retained there during the night, conveyed to the law office of a brother-in-law on Sunday, and there, for the first time, was it announced that there was an error in the former count of the vote. The vote had been previously counted by the officers of the election whose duty it was to count it, by the County Board of Examiners, by a private individual at the request of the clerk of the precinct, and, it is believed, by one of the candidates for the Legislature; and by none of them had the alleged errors been detected.

Jollification at Danville on the News of the Reception by Anderson of his Certificate.

The certificate, or a copy of it, was brought to Danville on Monday night, about 12 o'clock. Immediately thereafter Mr. Anderson, in person, aroused his friends, and with their screams, firing of guns, anvils, &c., kept the town in an uproar until morning. Judge Bramlette was in town at the time, and with the others awaiting the arrival of the news; and it is to his unrivaled genius we are indebted for this new weapon of warfare, the anvil. Whether it may be made to do much execution is not positively certain; but it does make a great noise. And if it shall fail of substantial service in time of war, it is certainly a fit instrument to announce an Opposition triumph. We suggest to the Judge the propriety of laying his invention before the Secretary of War, and it may be that it will attract the favorable consideration of military men. The Judge seemed to enjoy hugely its great reports; and it was, doubtless, a great relief to his mortified pride, resulting from his inglorious defeat at the hands of Major Chrisman some four or five years ago.

Col. Geo. B. Burnley.

We congratulate Mr. Burnley upon his promotion to the rank of Colonel, an official announcement of which will be found in another part of our paper. Although at present the duties of the position could be performed by a "carpet knight," we have every assurance, from his known chivalry and patriotism, that in any military service, the acquisition of Cuba for instance, in which our gallant Chief Magistrate would take command of the militia of the State in person, his new Aid would reflect honor upon his appointment.

Col. Burnley is a grandson and namesake of the Hon. George M. Bibb, one of the most distinguished of our statesmen of a former generation; and we are pleased to note the fact that he clings to the time-honored political faith of his ancestor, and that he did good service for the Democracy in the late canvass in this county.

LAND FOR SALE.—Governor Magoffin desires to sell three hundred acres, with the improvements, of his farm near Harrodsburg; or thirty acres of the same, including the dwelling and improvements. Terms made known on application.

GONE TO CALIFORNIA.—Col. Thos. H. Holt sailed from New York, on Monday, for California. The Colonel has heavy landed interests in that land of gold, which will require his absence for several months.

The President has accepted the resignation of the Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks, Commissioner of the General Land Office, who is now a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in Indiana.

Gen. Wright, the Democratic nominee for Governor of New Jersey, is a printer by trade.

John Stevenson, Esq., one of the earliest settlers of Kentucky, died in Baltimore on Thursday last, at the age of 73.

Col. B. B. Bayre's School.

We are requested to inform the patrons of this school, celebrated for its long standing and popularity in the West, that it will be closed for one year from and after the 26th instant.

The Principal makes this announcement with great regret, but of necessity. In the meantime, having provided more ample grounds, erected more commodious buildings, and introduced various improvements, Col. Bayre hopes to re-open his school in the next September with superior advantages.

As many parents throughout the State are interested in this school, editors of Kentucky papers will confer a favor by publishing the above.

Col. A. R. Stewart has sold his Oak Lawn plantation, Louisiana, in St. Bernard parish, for $240,000.

Rarely, if ever, has it been attempted by any party, or any set of men in a Republican government, to compel the majority to submit to the minority in the manner now attempted by the Opposition in Kentucky, to gain a member in Congress from the Fourth District.

None pretend that Chrisman, the Democratic candidate, is not elected by six majority of the votes cast at the election; yet Anderson, the Opposition candidate, procured and holds the certificate of election, and seems willing to take the seat in Congress as the Representative of the District, while a majority of the voters of the District preferred and voted for his competitor.

How did Anderson get the certificate? The county Board for Cumberland county, political friends of Anderson, met after the election to count and certify the vote of their county. They certified Anderson had received 650 and Chrisman 368, and sent this return to the State Board at Frankfort. Their attention being called soon afterwards to an error in the count which they had made, they convened and immediately amended their return by stating the mistake, and that the true vote for Chrisman was 380 instead of 368, as first reported by them. This correction, after allowing all others pretended by Anderson's friends, elects Chrisman by six majority. This corrected return was before the State Board long before, and at the time they acted. There is not the slightest suspicion of fraud resting on Chrisman or his friends. The Cumberland poll-books show Chrisman's vote full, fair, and plain as originally polled, and shows how the mistake as to ten of the votes was made against Chrisman originally by the Clerk of election, who, in Chrisman's column, numbering each vote, had got up to fifty-six; the next voter for Chrisman was set down forty-seven, the next forty-eight, and so on, losing to Chrisman ten votes; and when the county Board counted, they counted after the same manner, viz: fifty-six and one make forty-seven. Two or three other errors were found that made Chrisman's true vote as stated in their corrected return.

What did the State Board, who were all Anderson's political friends, do? They regarded none of the corrections. The first returns—founded in mistake, not bearing the true state of the poll on their face, and that fact officially certified by the men who had made the mistake—that official certificate lying side by side with the first or erroneous one—the true returns were thrown aside, and the false ones made the basis of the action of the State Board.

The false and erroneous returns elected Anderson by three majority, and they gave Anderson the certificate of election.

Were they compelled by law to disregard the true corrected vote, and take the false and untrue statement because first made?

See what the same Board, composed of the same men, did in 1857, in canvassing the returns of the election between Z. Wheat, Know-Nothing, and J. F. Bullitt, Democrat.

The first returns from Hart county showed for Wheat only 122 votes; the corrected returns showed for Wheat 222 votes. The first returns from Nelson had omitted to count the vote of the Bloomfield precinct; the subsequent corrected returns had counted the entire vote of the county, including Bloomfield precinct.

By rejecting the corrected returns, and basing the action of the Board on the original returns, Bullitt would have been elected. By admitting the corrected and true returns, Wheat was elected.

What did they do? They admitted the corrected returns, and declared Wheat duly elected.

When the original returns elect Anderson, they make them the basis of their action. When the corrected returns elect Wheat, they make them the basis of their action.

What do the State Board say for themselves in explanation? They say the latter is not analogous to the former case; that while it was unlawful for the Cumberland County Board to meet a second time and inform them over their own signatures, officially signed, that Chrisman had received twelve additional votes which they had not in the first instance counted, it was entirely lawful for the Hart County Clerk, one of the Hart County Board, to inform them by his statement, and by copies sent by him, that Wheat's true vote was 222.

Whilst the Hart County Board had sufficient prolonged vitality and legal existence, even through the action of one member, to make known to the State Board the additional 100 votes by a second effort—a second action—while the Nelson County Board had legal vigor and power to meet the second time and count the Bloomfield precinct votes, which had been accidentally omitted, and certify it up in the shape of an amended return; and while many days were delayed for an amended return from the county of Meade—while all these things were perfectly lawful when the result would elect Judge Wheat, it was unlawful for the Cumberland Board to meet the second time, or send any additional information as to the polls of that county between Chrisman and Anderson, when the true corrected return would elect Chrisman.

The State Board contend that the moment the Cumberland County Board completed its first count, and forwarded its first untrue and mistaken return, it—the County Board—was functus officio—had performed its office, and had no power to correct its own error, and make known the truth of the poll. While the Hart County Board, having acted, forwarded its erroneous return, the Nelson County Board, having acted, and forwarded its erroneous return, were not functus officio at all, but the Hart and Nelson Boards could still act in so far as to correct an erroneous return, and make known to the State Board the truth of their respective polls. Not analogous at all, say the State Board.

Suppose this whole affair is put up on the most charitable figure. Suppose Mr. Anderson's friends in Cumberland made an innocent accidental mistake when they made out their first return, and that the State Board conscientiously believed they were carrying out the law when they shut their eyes on the true and acted on the false returns, and that Mr. Anderson has received a certificate of election without any intentional wrong—when it is a conceded fact that Chrisman received a majority of votes at the election—what is the duty of Mr. A. under this state of case? Is it his duty to claim the seat with a minority vote? Does he wish to go to Congress as the Representative of a noble and magnanimous people when a majority of them have voted at the polls against him? Is he willing to place himself upon record in this unmistakable way, advocating the right of the minority to rule the majority? Is he willing to have it said he went to Congress by the mistakes of his friends, when a majority of the voters of the district had voted against him? Is he willing to have such a thing as this at his age fixed upon his political escutcheon in such lasting, blasting characters as that it can never be washed out, scoured out, rubbed out, or burnt out?

Does Mr. A. suppose the conservative men of his own party will not disapprove his course? If he thinks they will not condemn it, he is mistaken. If he thinks he is not sinking his entire party in his district and in his State far below their lowest mark yet made, he is mistaken.

Talk about Know-Nothing lodges, secret political societies, religious tests, and beating naturalized citizens from the polls all being wrong, exceedingly and palpably wrong—but if any political adventurer wishes to raise a storm about his ears that will consign him to eternal obscurity, let him set himself up with a minority at his back and say by act or word that they ought to rule the majority.

The Lafayette, Ind., Journal says that George Klink, the German whose cruel treatment of his little child we have noticed, was taken from his house on Thursday night, by a number of men unknown to him, to an alley near by, where he was gagged, tied, and given one hundred lashes with a rope's end. He was then released with a warning that if he misused the child again he would be hung at once.

NAUVOO.—The Icarian community recently sold all their property, it having been previously assigned for a debt of $18,000. They realized about $10,000 more than necessary to meet the debt. The old Mormon temple lot and what remains of the temple sold for $1,350.

The McKinney (Texas) Messenger reports a new discovery of gold. It says gold mines have lately been discovered some forty or fifty miles above that place on Red river. They are reported to be the old Spanish diggings, which have been hunted for, for the last ten years.

Prof. Grant, of this city, has been elected to the Chair of English Literature and President of the Academic Department of the University of Louisville.

METCALFE'S REPORTS.—The first volume of Metcalfe's Reports of decisions of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky is bound and ready for delivery, and may be had of the Reporter or at either of the book stores in Frankfort. Price $5 per volume. Persons wishing a volume sent by mail may remit the price and it will be forwarded postage paid.

MERCHANT TAILOR.—We call the attention of our readers, particularly the young men, to the card of M. B. Swain, Louisville. He keeps on hand a full supply of the latest styles clothes, cassimeres, vestings, &c., and will make them up on the shortest notice. Persons at a distance, by leaving their measures with Mr. S., can at any time order any clothing they want, and may be sure of getting the garments made of the best material, and to fit as well as if they were there in person. We know of several cases where Mr. S. has made clothing for persons at a distance from Louisville, and they gave the most perfect satisfaction. He is a clever, prompt, and accommodating gentleman, and we cheerfully recommend him to our friends everywhere.

SUMMER CLOTHING.—To those who wish to add to their stock of summer wear, we recommend the establishment of Schloss & Gatz, corner of Main and St. Clair streets, where can be found every variety of fashionable clothing, cravats, handkerchiefs, shirts, drawers, &c., made expressly for this market at their manufactory in Cincinnati, and sold as cheap as they can be purchased anywhere.

THE PRINTER'S CARE.—This case, an indictment against certain members of the Louisville Typographical Union for an alleged libel in publishing certain members and others for working in violation of their established rules, after two trials, in both of which the jury failed to agree, was finally decided by the court, the defendants being guilty, and a nominal fine of one cent being imposed. The trouble and delay incident to the trial, it having been before the court one year, was the ruling motive with the defense in accepting the compromise tendered them. The result of this trial shows the difficulty of convicting members of trade associations for such publications.

Dr. Julien Xavier Chabert, well known as the Fire King, died a day or two ago in New York. He was sixty-seven years of age. In 1822 he came to this country as an exhibitor of his salamander qualities, and entered red hot ovens. Subsequently he became a kind of chemist and quack doctor, and made almost all kinds of preparations for diseases, as well as poisons for flies and insects, and lucifer matches. He was a singular man, and seemed to live in the hope of making money from popular excitements and epidemics. His talents were tolerable, but not well applied. He died poor, and has left three children, one a member of the medical faculty, who resides at Hoboken, New Jersey.

W. W. Gruelle, the very efficient editor of the Cynthiana Age, is a candidate for Assistant Clerk of the House of Representatives. Mr. Gruelle has done hard service for the party, and having as he does from old Harrison, urged and endorsed by her gallant Democracy, he will go to the Legislature with claims it will be difficult to ignore.

[For the Yeoman.]
HARRISBURG, KY., Sept. 5, 1859.
S. I. M. MAJOR, Esq.: The announcement of V. B. Carter, Esq., as a candidate for Door-Keeper of the Lower House, calls forth this humble tribute from one whose knowledge of Mr. C. warrants him in saying that, as editor of the Lebanon Democrat, Mr. Carter has placed the Democratic party under obligations to him. No editor in Kentucky was more zealous—few more able—in the defense of our party and principles than he; and as a reward for his faithful services, his friends request his election to the office to which he aspires. Truly yours,
THE OLD FIFTH.

Vice President Breckinridge.
WASHINGTON, August 25.—Attorney General Black, in conversation with a Democratic editor in Pennsylvania, said that he was in receipt of a letter from Vice President Breckinridge, in which he said that he was not, and would not be, under any circumstances, a candidate for the Presidency. This is a source entirely trustworthy.

We have no doubt that Mr. Breckinridge is sincere in his disclaimer of a Presidential candidacy. He is but thirty-nine years of age, and the expiration of a term or even of two terms in the Presidential office, would place him in retirement in the meridian of his life. It would be better that a career should not thus quickly culminate, if it were soon to close; and if Mr. Breckinridge wishes to plan out a wise and well-ordered life, he will do well to shun the premature honors of the Presidency.

Still he is not beyond the reach of the Democracy of the nation; who, if they want him, will have him, not for his sake, but because of their own necessities. He declined, on the floor of the Cincinnati Convention, to be a candidate for the Vice Presidency; but the Democratic delegation of New York will not forget how their enthusiasm for him, which soon communicated itself to the Convention, was confirmed by it and by the country.—Albany Argus.

I expect some dam nigger must have frowed it dar."

Rheumatism Cured.

To the readers of the Yeoman: Preserve this notice. If not afflicted yourself, you may serve suffering humanity by sending it to some one who is.

Dr. Mortimore, by personal treatment, and the use of his remedy, by Physicians and Druggists, has cured probably twenty thousand cases of this painful and paralyzing disease—comprising cases of every seeming form, from those of a recent inflammatory (acute) character, to old chronic cases of ten, twenty, and even thirty years' standing. This disease is becoming more prevalent every year, and is seldom cured, or even alleviated, by the usual course of treatment. In its active form it often proves fatal, or if not soon arrested, becomes chronic—stiffens the joints, contracts the ligaments, muscles, and tendons, and thus renders the sufferer a cripple for life, or, if ever afterwards cured, even by the use of this remedy, requires longer treatment and greater expense.

This is a vegetable internal remedy which cured the proprietor of it after long suffering, and all the usual remedies known had failed, and is safe to be used in any state of health—even by the most delicate female or child, and its success, in curing rheumatism, is attested by thousands, among whom are eminent physicians, ministers of various denominations, prominent journalists, and individuals of high standing throughout our country, such as should inspire confidence in every rational mind.

This evidence can be had on call at the office; or those at a distance, by addressing the proprietor, will receive, by mail, a circular of evidence. The remedy can be had at $5 per bottle, or five bottles for $20. Persons ordering at a distance can remit at the proprietor's risk by registering letter, and the medicine will be forwarded by express, or as directed, to any place in the United States or Europe.

THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN.

Important from the North.

The British Island San Juan taken Possession of by the American Soldiers under Gen. Harney—Great Excitement, and a Spect of War.

By the overland arrival at St. Louis we have full intelligence concerning the difficulties about the invasion of San Juan Island by the American troops. The following letter from the San Francisco Times explains the whole matter:

THE INVASION OF SAN JUAN ISLAND.

VICTORIA, V. I., August 7, 1859.

Editor Daily Times: You are, perhaps, aware before this that while you have been absorbed in political controversies at home, or watching the events of the great world in the far East, war, with all its attendant evils, has been threatened here in the distant North.

Some weeks ago, came to this port, on the U. S. S. Massachusetts, Gen. Harney. His arrival was acknowledged by a salute, and, after a day's sojourn as the guest of Gov. Douglas, he "passed by on the other side."

A few days after the General's departure for Puget Sound, our readers were told that the great excitement by the news that a company of American troops had seized the disputed island of San Juan, and that barracks were being established upon it. No one knew by whom the act was authorized, and especially did certain chivalric Americans, who, filibustering proclivities, seem not to care. Then commenced blustering and blarneying on both sides, the American population was excited as usual on such occasions, and the British indignation. Numerous lively discussions sprung up among groups of citizens at the street corners, and a considerable amount of the King's English was demolished on both sides.

Very soon vessels for the conveyance of passengers to the seat of war were in demand. Small boats were chartered for the trip, and several steamboats departed with visitors, both English and Americans, to the island of San Juan, a distance of fifteen or twenty miles from this place. Two of the English vessels of war from Esquimaux harbor, had gone over on the first reception of the news. Most of those who went to the island did so, perhaps, through curiosity; but to their respective countries, if their services were needed. In the harbor of San Juan were found, besides several British men-of-war, the U. S. ships Massachusetts, Shubrick, and a revenue cutter of Joshua Eaton, at Charlotte. He came up to the island, and, after taking dinner at a hotel and visiting several places about town, got separated from the rest of his party, and the next day he was seen on the west side of the river, but back of it out of sight of the rope, on some lumber which is piled up loosely at the brink of the precipice. The ends of some of the boats sticking out of the water beyond the bank, and the ship stepped on one of them which was loose. It tipped so as to throw him off his balance, and in an instant he was precipitated over the bank and fell to the bottom, without touching anything in his descent—a distance of about two hundred feet—striking on some rocks within two or three feet of the water. There was nobody near him who could have helped him, and he lay there for some time before he was seen. A large number of people who were looking out of the windows of the factory and the mills in the vicinity, and also by the people on the flats and the island below the falls. We have conversed with several of the spectators, and all concur in representing the sight as one to make the blood run cold. The poor fellow pitched off the boards headlong, but when about half way down turned over on his back and landed on his back and side. The rock resembled that which would have been made by a rock of the same weight, and was heard by some people on Falls Field. Several men and boys were on the spot within ten minutes after the accident, but scarcely a sign of life was apparent in the body.

Gen. Harney, no doubt, views it in this light, and has ordered the establishment of the post there as he would on any other portion of American soil. We honor him for it.

[From the Buffalo Courier, September 1.]
Rope Walking at Niagara—Blondin

The grounds were well illuminated by locomotive lamps, and the opposite side of the river was also lighted up for a considerable extent. The Maid of the Mist, all ablaze with lights, was passing up the river. Blondin made due preparations, dressed himself in a linen suit with the rock he has so often worn, armed himself with his balancing pole, to which he had attached with brilliant bits of various colors, and then sending forth a rocket, he commenced his "evening walk."

At a little past 8 o'clock he proceeded rapidly down the rope, and was distinctly visible upon either side. Unfortunately the light upon one end of the pole became detached and fell into the river. When about halfway he took a stick to assist him, and, as he took it, he was heard to exclaim, "Not satisfied with beholding things above and around him, he finally inverted himself and looked down into the water. It was so dark we think he did not see much. Standing on his head at night on a rope over the chasm of Niagara, must be sport! Arising he passed on. Soon after the other light fell from his pole, and Blondin was left in impenetrable darkness. Above, a beam of light shone down from the sky. Nothing more was heard or seen of him until a shout from the opposite shore announced he had safely crossed the flood. At a little after, he started on his return, surrounded with fire-works consisting of Roman candles. He was literally enveloped in a blaze. When about midway he laid down his pole and stood up erect. A large number of people were below the rope by his heels, and there he remained drumming on his chest until his camp-fires were all extinguished. Then he was left as before in utter darkness. A live Yankee, who was standing by, said he wondered if he would "stay there for allers."

A shout on the bank announced his safe arrival home. Thus ended Mr. Blondin's night-walking.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT AT ROCHESTER.—A frightful accident occurred at Rochester, while DeLave was going through his performance upon the rope. "The victim," says the Democrat, "was a young man named William F. Jennis, employed as a clerk in the office and warehouse of Joshua Eaton, at Charlotte. He came up to the island, and, after taking dinner at a hotel and visiting several places about town, got separated from the rest of his party, and the next day he was seen on the west side of the river, but back of it out of sight of the rope, on some lumber which is piled up loosely at the brink of the precipice. MILITARY POST, SAN JUAN ISLAND.
W. T., July 27th, 1859.
[ORDERS No. 1.]

I. In compliance with orders and instructions from the General Commanding, a Military Post will be established on this island, on whatever site the Commanding Officer may select.

II. All the inhabitants of the island are requested to report at once to the Commanding Officer, in case of any incursion of the Northern Indians, so that he may take such steps as he may deem necessary to prevent any future occurrence of the same.

III. This being United States Territory, no laws other than those of the United States, nor courts, except such as are held by virtue of said laws, will be recognized or allowed on this island. By order of
CAPTAIN HICKEY.

JAMES FORNTH,
3d Lieut., 9th Infantry, Post Adjutant.

It will be observed from the tone of this order that it ignores the treaty and Boundary Commission, and admits of no compromise; if, therefore, it proves to have had no higher authority than Gen. Harney, and any concession is hereafter made, it will afford another example of the reckless manner in which filibustering American citizens jeopardize the peace and compromise the honor of their country.

From the first, it appears that the British desired to avoid a collision, as their ability, at any moment to take the island can scarcely be doubted; it was their wish to gain a joint military occupation of the island with our troops, until our forces could be received from the heads of the two Governments. A proposition to that effect was made, but was rejected, but it is believed will yet be accepted to it. It is unnecessary to repeat, that if such a concession is made, after what has passed, it will be a dastardly compromise of the country's honor.

Affairs have rested in this plight, with little change, during the past week. A small company or two from Fort Bellingham have been added to the American forces, and the number of Americans have gone from this place and Washington Territory, with the avowed intention of settling at San Juan. A British vessel of war brought down some sappers and miners from Fraser river a few days since, and renewed the request to land their forces, but were refused. They had not landed at the last accounts, and matters remained in statu quo.

On Wednesday Gov. Douglas issued a protest against the occupation of San Juan Island by the Americans, and declared the island to belong to Her Majesty, Queen Victoria. His Excellency also sent a message to the Vancouver Legislative Assembly yesterday, in which it is declared that the British forces will be landed on the island. If such be their intention, a collision seems inevitable.

The disputed island lies northwesterly from the entrance to Puget Sound and the main land of Washington Territory in the vicinity of Port Townsend—the broad and beautiful Strait of Fuca being between. Sailing from the Sound to Victoria, across the Fuca, San Juan appears to be a part of Vancouver's Island, and the disputed channel cannot be distinguished until you have come down opposite its mouth or junction with the Strait.

Notwithstanding the treaty, and the loud talk that is made about the commanding importance of San Juan to the Americans, it naturally belongs to the British, and is of infinitely greater value to them than the United States. The channel in dispute is the gate of the Gulf of Georgia, Fraser river and British Columbia—mostly British water and British possessions. If this channel is, by the treaty, determined to be the boundary line, it only gives us a small island of small value with no other advantages, as we own nothing north of it; while to them it is the door-way to all their possessions. This is no reason, however, why the United States should not have the island, if by any right it belongs to her; but if John Bull goes to war for this island, it will be because it is of great value to him.

Considerable ill feeling appears to have arisen among the people at Victoria in consequence of this movement of Gen. Harney. The Victoria Gazette, having assumed a position upon the subject which is deemed to be an American view, is assailed severely by several English writers in the Colonist.

The Pioneer and Democrat commends the action of Gen. Harney in taking possession of San Juan Island. It says:

"The treaty is based upon the principle that all south of the parallel of forty-nine was United States Territory, and that the island was made simply to give Vancouver's Island—only a small portion of which was south of that parallel—to that country, who, had the line continued directly across it, would have owned the greater portion of it. If, then, the question were one of doubt as to the proper channel, a consideration of the intent of the treaty must solve that question in favor of the United States. But it is not a question upon which a doubt should be permitted to exist. The Canal de Haro is the broadest, deepest, and most direct channel from the Straits of Fuca into the Gulf of Georgia. And this would not be questioned were it not for the value of intermediate islands. To England they are valuable as well for the land, of which there is much of a superior quality on some of the islands, as also that they are supposed to command the southern entrance to the Gulf of Georgia. To us they are necessary as a military post, being the only place suitable for the protection of our own people from the hordes of Northern savages, from whom we have already suffered, and from whom threatened attacks many of our settlements down the Sound are kept in continual alarm. San Juan is just the place for a post. The Indians must pass within striking distance in coming to and returning from the settlements."

LAWLESSNESS IN BALTIMORE.—The following call for a public meeting is published in the Baltimore papers:

"The undersigned, citizens and business men of Baltimore, in view of the present deplorable condition of affairs in our city, call upon all favorable to the restoration of peace and order, and the purity of the ballot-box, and the protection of legal voters, to assemble with them in mass meeting, at Monument Square, Monday afternoon, the fifth day of September, at four o'clock, to take into consideration such measures as the present crisis may warrant."

Referring to the objects of this meeting, the Baltimore American says measures must be taken to secure, at the coming election, the "protection of voters, the safety of challengers, and the honesty of the judges." The meeting must consult and co-operate with the Mayor, and must have no taint of partisanship. The Baltimore Patriot thus explains the present extraordinary state of affairs in that city:

We are glad to find the community is aroused in regard to the rule of terror which rowdies and scoundrels are permitted by the inefficiency and want of the Criminal Court, to put upon us. The immediate cause and occasion of the assassinations, fights and robberies, and the distribution of money among these outlaws, by certain parties, for ends of their own, in connection with political nominations. If there existed the proper and wholesome fear of punishment by the officers of the law, by the Court, which ought to try these outlaws, and which when they were convicted, would stand in the way of their being re-arrested, and which would have no doubt been the case, the state of things would be improved both for the public and the peace of the city. The state of things would be improved both for the public and the peace of the city. The state of things would be improved both for the public and the peace of the city.

Extract from an article on fashion, from Morris & Willis' Home Journal:

"Hoops, we are glad to perceive, will continue in vogue, and with no decrease in their circumference. No fashion which has lately prevailed has been attended with such important results to women's health as the crinoline or hoops. Skirts of the American manufacture, especially the indestructible skirt, manufactured by Messrs. W. S. & C. H. Thomson, of New York, are not only necessary to the handsome display of their dresses, but their dismissal would scarcely be tolerated. It is a noticeable feature, one which we have often had our attention called to, that American ladies—whether at home on Fifth Avenue, or abroad among the throngs of the Bois de Boulogne, or Regent street, or mingling with Parisian belles fluttering on the Boulevards—are readily recognizable by their superior air of elegance. Much of this may be attributable to the natural gifts of beauty of face and form which they possess, but still their costume has considerable to do with it. No department of ladies' dress has so important a bearing upon the civility and elegance of their appearance as the crinoline or hoops. It is a noticeable feature, one which we have often had our attention called to, that American ladies—whether at home on Fifth Avenue, or abroad among the throngs of the Bois de Boulogne, or Regent street, or mingling with Parisian belles fluttering on the Boulevards—are readily recognizable by their superior air of elegance. Much of this may be attributable to the natural gifts of beauty of face and form which they possess, but still their costume has considerable to do with it. No department of ladies' dress has so important a bearing upon the civility and elegance of their appearance as the crinoline or hoops.
